

Vietnam's GDP growth is driven by manufacturing, electronics, and agriculture. The country is a top exporter of textiles, seafood, and electronics.

Government / Agencies	What You'll Find Here
Ministry of Labour – Invalids and Social Affairs (MOLISA)	The MOLISA website provides information on labor laws, employment policies, social welfare, and vocational training. Investors can find insights into Vietnam's labor market, workforce regulations, and social security systems—key for managing human resources and ensuring compliance.
Vietnam Social Security (VSS)	The VSS English news page shares updates on social insurance, health insurance, and labor policies. Investors can find information on Vietnam's social protection systems, employer obligations, and regulatory changes—important for workforce planning and legal compliance.
General Department of Taxation	The General Department of Taxation Vietnam website provides information on Vietnam's tax policies and administration. Investors can access details on corporate tax, VAT, e-filing systems, and tax incentives—essential for understanding fiscal obligations and planning investments in Vietnam.
Vietnam General Confederation of Labor	The website is the digital platform of the Vietnam General Confederation of Labor. It provides news, policies, and resources related to labor unions and workers' rights. Investors can gain insights into labor relations, union activities, and workforce engagement in Vietnam's labor environment.
National e-Visa	The Vietnam National Electronic Visa System allows foreigners to apply online for single or multiple-entry visas valid up to 90 days. Investors can use this platform to streamline travel arrangements for business visits, explore market opportunities, and engage with local partners or authorities efficiently.