Customs clearance instruction/power of attorney

In order to continue to fulfil our service promise, we request that you fill out and send back the power of attorney below at your earliest convenience to FedEx (by email: eori-de@fedex.com).

Consent

Under the customs procedure information on your shipments, which are protected by law and e.g. subjects to tax secrecy, will be transmitted electronically. The unencrypted transmission of the information via Internet from FedEx or the authorities, involved in the customs procedure, to you or the unencrypted exchange of the information between FedEx and the authorities, involved in the customs procedure, requires your prior consent, for which we would ask you.

Part 2: Customs clearance

We hereby instruct FedEx Express Germany GmbH to perform customs clearance for our inbound FedEx shipments in accordance with the agreements defined more precisely here below. FedEx Express Germany GmbH is authorized to give a sub-power of attorney.

Shipments which can be exempted from duties and/or taxes

Shipments which, taking into account the documentation available during import, can be cleared without import duties and/or taxes being levied should be declared for free circulation with duty exemption. Where duties are subsequently assessed for these shipments, we will comply with our obligation to perform or, if FedEx disburses monies in this regard, release FedEx there from or reimburse disbursed amounts.

Clearance for free circulation (with duties and taxes assessed)

All import duties accruing (duties, including any anti-dumping duties, VAT, etc.) are assumed by us and must be invoiced to us if necessary. FedEx levies a fee of 8.00 Euros per additional line item for customs entries with more than five line items.
