Calculating rates Domestic FedEx Express service

Find the shipping zone.

Use the postal code groups (letters) of origin and destination obtained in the previous step to find your shipping zone in the following table. Where the row cross (origin postal code group) and column (destination postal code group) is a number. This number will be used in the next step to determine your rate.

When you identify the number of your shipping zone in the table, continue with the next step, depending on the service selected.

Calculate the rate

Look for the zone number in the price list to identify the tariff of the FedEx® Nacional 8:30 a.m. service. In the case that you don't know how to obtain the zone, consult pages 6 and 7. Calculate the total weight of your shipment. See page 17 Dimensional weight rate calculation for Domestic Shipments. The total price for your shipment will be the rate of the kilograms that your shipment weighs, and in the case that your shipment using the FedEx® Nacional 8:30 a.m. service exceeds 5 Kg, you should multiply the kilograms over by the price per additional kilogram and add it to the 5 Kg rate, considering the data for the same shipping zone. For domestic shipments, the package tariff will apply to envelopes that exceed 1 Kg.

The rates in this document are effective January 4th, 2021 and substitute the rates published on January 6th, 2020. Package rates will be applied to envelopes weighing more than 1 kg. The maximum weight limit for FedEx® Nacional 8:30 AM is 68 kg. FedEx reserves the right to reject packages that exceed limits. In case these shipments are in our network, FedEx will decide at its own discretion if the shipment can be made. Additional charges will apply for oversize, dimension, weight, additional handling or packaging to these packages. Any fraction of a kilo will be rounded up the next higher kilo rate.*

FedEx reserves the right to modify or change the services and rates at any time. Certain restrictions apply. Shipments are subject to a dimensional weight and fuel surcharge. Additional fees may apply. Rates with VAT included. Not all services are offered in all cities. Please check the services and coverage; contact our Customer Service Center.

Calculate the rate

Use the shipping zone number assigned in the table to identify your FedEx® Nacional Económico service rate. To know how to obtain the zone, please refer to pages 6 and 7. Calculate the total weight of your shipment. See page 17 Dimensional weight rate calculation for Domestic Shipments. The total cost of your shipment will be the first kilogram rate plus the additional kilo rate that applies to the extra kilograms. For domestic envelop shipments exceeding 1 kg , packages rates apply.

*The rates in this document are effective from January 4th, 2021 and substitute the rates published on January 6th, 2020. Package rates will be applied to envelopes weighing more than 1 kg. The maximum weight limit for FedEx® Nacional Día Siguiente is 68 kg. FedEx reserves the right to reject packages that exceed limits. In case these shipments are in our network, FedEx will decide at its own discretion if the shipment can be made. Additional charges will apply for oversize, dimension, weight, additional handling or packaging to these packages. Any fraction of a kilo will be rounded up the next higher kilo rate.

FedEx reserves the right to modify or change the services and rates at any time. Certain restrictions apply. Shipments are subject to a dimensional weight and fuel surcharge. Additional fees may apply. Rates with VAT included. Not all services are offered in all cities. Please check the services and coverage; contact our Customer Service Center.

Dimensional weight rate calculation for your domestic shipments

The rate calculation according to the dimensional weight applies to each shipment packed by the customer. The FedEx® packaging may also be subject to price calculation depending on dimensional weight. If the dimensional weight exceeds the actual weight, may be calculated based on dimensional weight.

How to calculate dimensional weight?

1. Measure the length the width and height of your package in centimeters.
2. Find the volume and divide by 5,000 to get the dimensional weight in kilograms. Round fractions to the next full digit.
3. If the dimensional weight exceeds the actual weight of the package, dimensional weight is used to calculate your rate.

The length is defined as the longest side of the object or package. The circumference is calculated by taking twice the width plus twice the height of the object or package.*

$$\text{Dimensional weight factor} = \frac{\text{length} \times \text{width} \times \text{height}}{5,000} = \text{Kilograms}$$

Length and girth for your domestic shipments

How to calculate the length and girth?

The length is defined as the longest side of the object or package. The formula of the circumference is calculated by taking twice the width plus twice the height of the object or package:

$$\text{Formula L\&C} = \text{Length} + 2 (\text{width}) + 2 (\text{Height})$$

- Maximum of length and girth combined: 130 inches (330cm).

To calculate your rates

1. Go to the “FedEx Countries List “ and choose your destination.
2. Determine the zone and the service you want to use.
3. Determine the rate* by weight.
4. If a shipment weighs more than 20.5kg, use the table “Rates per kg”
5. In the table “Rates per kg”, the calculated rate or the starting rate of next weight group applies, whichever is less.

For rates and transit times visit fedex.com/mx.

*Export rates are effective as of January 4th, 2021 and supersede the rates published on January 6th, 2020. FedEx reserves the right to modify or change the services and rates at any time. Certain restrictions apply. Not all services are offered in all countries. Please check the services and coverage with our Customer Support Center. The VAT added to these rates will be in accordance with the current governing legislation in the Mexican Republic. Applies exchange rate of the day. Shipments are subject to: oversize, dimension, weight, additional handling or packaging to these packages. Additional fees may apply. Any fraction of a kilo will be rounded up the next higher kilo rate.

The rates for FedEx[®] 10 kg Box and FedEx[®] 25 kg Box only apply when using the designated packaging for this service and can only be sent via FedEx International Priority[®] service with a special fixed rate. Shipments weighing more than specified will be charged according to the rate per additional kg mentioned in the Service Guide. Rates are subject to change without notice.

The FedEx International First® service arrives in the United States and selects cities in Europe, Asia and Latin America. The countries are: Germany, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Denmark, Spain, France, Holland, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, Puerto Rico, United Kingdom, Singapore and Switzerland.*

To calculate your rates

1. Go to the “FedEx Countries List “ and choose your destination.
2. Determine the zone and the service you want to use.
3. Determine the rate* by weight.
4. If a shipment weighs more than 20.5 kg, call 55.5228.9904

*Imports rates are effective as of January 4th, 2021 and supersede the rates published on January 6th, 2020. FedEx reserves the right to modify or change the services and rates at any time. Certain restrictions apply. Not all services are offered in all countries. Please check the services and coverage with our Customer Support Center. The VAT added to these rates will be in accordance with the current governing legislation in the Mexican Republic. Applies exchange rate of the day. Shipments are subject to: oversize, dimension, weight, additional handling or packaging to these packages. Additional fees may apply. Any fraction of a kilo will be rounded up the next higher kilo rate.

Dimensional weight rate calculation for your international shipments.

The rate calculation according to the dimensional weight applies to each shipment packed by the customer. The FedEx packaging may also be subject to price calculation depending on dimensional weight. If the dimensional weight exceeds the actual weight, may be calculated based on dimensional weight.

How to calculate the dimensional weight?

1. Measure the length the width and height of your package in centimeters.
2. Find the volume and divide by 5,000 to get the dimensional weight in kilograms. Round fractions to the next full digit.
3. If the dimensional weight exceeds the actual weight of the package, dimensional weight is used to calculate your rate.

$$\text{Dimensional weight factor} = \frac{\text{length} \times \text{width} \times \text{height}}{5,000} = \text{Kilograms}$$

Length and girth for your international shipments

How to calculate the length and girth?

The length is defined as the longest side of the object or package. The formula of the circumference is calculated by taking twice the width plus twice the height of the object or package:

$$\text{Formula L\&C} = \text{length} + 2 (\text{width}) + 2 (\text{height})$$

- Maximum length: 96 inches (243 cm)
- Maximum of length and girth combined: 130 inches (130cm).
