Solution Overview

Centiro believes in empowering logistics for successful companies. Our cloud-based application suite for delivery management and logistics collaboration allows shippers to manage and use a global catalogue of delivery services – inbound, outbound, and returns – for a seamless and consistent customer experience.

We provide a full range of value-creating features with the end customer in mind; from up-stream service selection, labels, and manifesting through tracking and proactive event management to end-to-end order-process overviews. This gives shippers complete visibility and optimized control over how delivery services are deployed and used. Centiro has a long-standing history of serving the finest, most innovative, and demanding supply chains in the world.
