International Wine Shipping Basics

When shipping wine internationally, there are some basic requirements that are applicable, no matter to what country/territory the shipment is destined. These basic requirements are as follows:

Commercial Invoice: When shipping wine to any international destination, the Commercial Invoice or Pro Forma Invoice needs to be very specific. This rule should apply to both commercial and personal shipments. Many countries/territories around the world charge duties based on the type of wine, as well as the alcohol content. The following information should be clearly indicated on the Commercial Invoice to avoid customs clearance delays:

- Quantity (e.g., 6 bottles).
- Quantity measurement (e.g., 750ml).
- Country/Territory of origin (e.g., USA).
- Producer.
- Vintage, where applicable.
- Wine type i.e., Red/White, Still/Sparkling.
- Percentage alcohol by volume (e.g., 13%).
- Unit value (per bottle).
- Total value.
- If wine is being shipped to a consumer, indicate "For Personal Use" or "Gift," as appropriate, on the Commercial Invoice.

Duties and Taxes: As a general rule, the duties and taxes on alcoholic beverages can be very high. Duties and taxes in some countries can be more than 100%, even for gift or sample shipments. Many countries/territories also assess special excise or luxury taxes on alcoholic beverages. To protect the local wine industry, where applicable, some countries/territories enforce strict licensing requirements. When shipping direct to a private individual, it is recommended that these duties/taxes are highlighted.

Electronic Export Information (EEI) – formerly Shippers Export Declaration (SED): Where the value of a single Schedule B or Harmonized System code in a wine shipment exceeds USD $2,500.00, you are required by law to file EEI for a U.S., Puerto Rico, or U.S. Virgin Islands export.* The EEI must be electronically filed to the Automated Export System (AES) by the U.S. Principal Party in Interest (USPPI) (generally this is the exporter) or their designated agent. U.S. Census Bureau uses this information for export control purposes, as well as to gather export statistics. To help you comply, FedEx Express will file on your behalf for a $10.00 fee. You can also choose to file with AES directly, or use FedEx Export AgentFile® direct, or FedEx Export AgentFile®.

*Go to FedEx® Global Trade Manager at fedex.com for details on when EEI is required.

The International Wine Shipping Country Documentation Requirements identifies the destination countries/territories for which FedEx Express agrees to accept legal shipments of wine from licensed U.S. shippers to consumers, as well as basic documentation requirements applicable for wine shipments to consumers in those countries/territories. This document is valid as of the date generated (see below) and is provided solely as a reference for shippers who have executed a FedEx International Wine Shipping Agreement and is only applicable for legal alcohol shipments. The terms of shipping are governed by the FedEx Service Guide, FedEx International Wine Shipping Agreement, and any applicable Rate Agreement. The shipper is responsible for knowing and complying with all applicable laws and regulations in U.S. and destination country/territory. The shipper is further responsible to determine whether shipper and recipient meet all applicable requirements, and whether shipment may be legally transported by common carrier. This document does not constitute legal advice; if you need legal advice in this area, please consult an attorney.
